Kids just love the Kids Club

Every time another successful one is held, we keep hearing about how much fun the kids have at our monthly Goodies' Kids Club workshop, and if there's one thing Goodie likes to have is fun. That's why we stopped by on Sunday, February 16 to see the kids in action and we had a blast along with the participants. Around 12 kids and their parents gathered in an alcove just outside the cutting room to work on this month's project which was a Bird Feeder.

Chad Gray of Mill Valley was there with his two children, 6-year old Piper and 3-year old Baxter who was having the time of his life.

"This is fantastic," Gray remarked. "We'll be here every Sunday that they have it."

Laura Duncan of Mill Valley brought her 8-year old daughter Neva and the two worked together constructing the bird feeder made of two different sizes of wood strips nailed to a wire mesh screen for the birdseed and stainless steel hooks and chain links for hanging.

"This is wonderful, and so much fun. We're really loving it," Duncan said.

Adam Ellasowich had his two daughters with him, 6-year old Rosemary and 3-year old Marigold. The trio worked as a team with Marigold watching her big sister intently before getting in on the action herself.

"It's like an apprenticeship for kids," observed Ellasowich.

All the girls and boys seemed really into the activity, so if you have a child you would like to see them become a do-it-your-selfer, don't miss the next Kids Club on April 19 where the kids will get to Create a Bug catcher. The workshop will start promptly at 12:30 pm and registration is required for children 12-years old or younger.

Spring is here but so is another potential drought

Spring is right around the corner and Goodman's like every year since we opened our doors in 1955 will have everything you need from a huge selection of live plants to organic options for growing and nurturing them. Unfortunately, watering them may or may not be a problem. Don't be fooled by what looks like a full Nicasio of Stafford Lake reservoirs. The snow pack in the Sierra Nevada Mountains is only at 50-percent and while February is a month where the snow pack that fills many reservoirs and the rain that fills ours here in Marin County has been non-existent. Unless we get March rain and potential April showers, look for our next Goodie Times to talk about water conservation and rationing, but in reality start conserving now! We could very well be in for a very dry winter and that will mean another potential long and dangerous fire season
